The Fetal-Maternal Center at Children's Hospital Los Angeles provides comprehensive care for expectant mothers experiencing high-risk pregnancies. Perinatologists, fetal surgeons, neonatologists, fetal cardiologists and nurse care managers work together to provide the most advanced care for mothers and their unborn babies. Pediatric specialists address the care needs of babies diagnosed with a health condition in utero. The team coordinates with obstetricians and delivery hospitals to meet the needs of expectant mothers and their infants.
